Share copies with employees.

Post up to five articles (at any time) a year on your website.

About CLA

If your organisation copies from books, journals, magazines, or websites you need a Copyright Licencing Agency (CLA) copyright licence to protect it from infringement. Our range of licences and supporting digital tools give you the coverage and flexibility you need to share ideas in your organisation.

As a not-for-profit company, we distribute our revenues back into the creative industries ensuring rights holders are fairly remunerated for their works.

Act responsibly. Protect your organisation. Support creatives. Copy, Right.
