

Extended Multinational Law Licence

Copying Guidelines for Employees

The CLA Multinational Law Licence permits employees to make Paper or Digital Copies of content, subject to certain terms and conditions, from most books, magazines, journals and periodicals as well as from a wide range of digital publications. Copies may be made from publications including those to which you subscribe and from articles or press cuttings provided by licensed external suppliers where a copyright fee has been paid (e.g. from a PR or press cuttings agency or the British Library).

1 Licence Coverage

- Photocopying
- Scanning
- Copying of digital content, e.g. e-books, PDF files from electronic subscriptions, online journal articles and certain website material

2 What can I use copies for?

Internal communications, for example:

- To share with colleagues at meetings or briefings
- To share media coverage within your organisation
- For market intelligence
- For Health & Safety or Environmental Awareness
- For internal training

Single Copies can also be sent to the following

- Regulatory and patent authorities
- Clients, advisers or third parties involved in a matter on which your firm has already been engaged*
- Prospective and existing clients with the intention of alerting them to a matter on which further advice might be sought, on an ad hoc basis only*
- Barristers, advisers and other judicial staff in connection with the preparation, institution or defence of legal proceedings*
- Witnesses and law enforcement agencies*

3 How much can be copied?

On each occasion you may copy a single chapter of a book, a single article from a periodical, or up to 5% of a publication, whichever is the greater.

4 Who can make and receive copies?

Any employee in your organisation, including individual consultants or agency workers, can make and receive copies.

5 Excluded Works

Please note that there are some individual titles, authors and categories of publications that are excluded from the Licence and you will need to contact the copyright owner directly for permission to copy these. To check if a work is excluded you can search for it on CLA's Check Permissions.

6 Digital publications

Copying of electronic publications is restricted to publications published by Participating Digital Material Publishers. For full details please visit cla.co.uk

7 International publications

UK employees

CLA has agreements with similar agencies in most major overseas territories enabling International publications and content to be copied under the CLA Licence. For full details of these overseas agencies and the countries that are covered please visit cla.co.uk

Non-UK employees

Copying outside the UK under the CLA Multinational Law Licence is restricted to works published in the UK and from a range of international publishers.

8 Check Permissions

The easiest way to check what can be copied is to use CLA's Check Permissions.

Further Information

Please contact CLA Customer Services: Tel 020 7400 3126 Email cs@cla.co.uk

 These permissions do not apply when scanning or making Digital Copies of works published in the United States of America*

This document is intended for use as guidance only and not as a substitute for the CLA licence terms themselves, which should be read in full. In the event of conflict between the two, the licence terms shall prevail.