

Extended Multinational Pharmaceutical Licence

Copying Guidelines for Employees

The CLA Extended Multinational Pharmaceutical Licence permits employees to make paper or digital copies of content to which they have lawful access, subject to the licence terms and conditions, from most books, magazines, journals and periodicals as well as from a wide range of digital publications.

1 The Licence Permits

- Photocopying
- Scanning
- Copying of digital content

2 What can I copy?

- Print and digital versions of books, magazines and journals
- Certain websites
- Articles or press cuttings supplied by licensed external suppliers

3 What can I use copies for?

- To share with colleagues at meetings or briefings
- To share media coverage within your organisation
- For research and development
- For prompting permitted Generative AI tools* subject to certain conditions and limitations, including on the use of outputs, as detailed in the licence terms

Single Copies can also be sent to the following:

- Healthcare professionals and others making unsolicited requests for therapeutic or technical information about a product**
- Regulatory authorities in any jurisdiction, and external regulatory advisers in connection with an application or regulatory advice
- External advisers in connection with the preparation or prosecution of legal proceedings**
- Patent authorities in support of a patent application in any jurisdiction

Copies may not be provided for any external marketing purpose.

Access the terms of the CLA Extended Multinational Pharmaceutical Licence

4 How much can be copied?

On each occasion you may copy a single chapter of a book, two articles from a periodical, or up to 5% of a publication, whichever is the greater. Where a periodical issue or a substantial part of it is dedicated to a particular theme, any number of articles dealing with that particular theme may be copied.** For digital publications such as websites that are not conventionally structured, you should ensure that copying is limited to small extracts that are equivalent to these limits.

5 Who can make and receive copies?

Any employee in your organisation, including individual consultants or agency workers.

6 Excluded works

Please note that there are some individual titles, authors and categories of publications that are excluded from the Licence. You will need to contact the copyright owner directly for permission to copy these

7 International publications

UK employees

CLA has agreements with similar agencies in most major overseas territories enabling International publications and content to be copied under a CLA Licence. For full details of these overseas agencies and the countries that are covered please visit cla.co.uk

Non-UK employees

Copying outside the UK under the CLA Multinational Pharmaceutical Licence is restricted to UK, Switzerland, Canada (excluding Quebec) and US publications as well as works from a range of international publishers.

8 Check Permissions

The easiest way to check what can be copied is to use CLA's Check Permissions search tool at cla.co.uk

* The licence only covers the use of versions of Generative AI tools that do not use prompts for training or fine-tuning the underlying model. For more information, please refer to the licence terms.

**These permissions do not apply when scanning or making Digital Copies of works published in the USA.

This document is intended for use as guidance only and not as a substitute for the CLA licence terms themselves, which should be read in full. In the event of conflict between the two, the licence terms prevail.

Further Information

Please contact CLA Customer Services: Tel 020 7400 3126 Email cs@cla.co.uk