Public Administration Licence

Copying Guidelines for Employees

The CLA Public Administration Licence permits UK employees and other authorised persons to make paper or digital copies of content to which they have lawful access, subject to the licence terms and conditions, from most books, magazines, journals and periodicals as well as from a wide range of digital publications.

1 The Licence Permits

- Photocopying
- Scanning
- Copying of digital content

2 What can I copy?

- Print and digital versions of books, magazines and journals
- Certain websites
- Articles or press cuttings supplied by licensed external suppliers

3 What can I use copies for?

- To share with colleagues at meetings or briefings
- To share media coverage within your organisation
- For prompting permitted Generative AI tools* subject to certain conditions and limitations, including on the use of outputs, as detailed in the licence terms
- For Health & Safety or Environmental Awareness
- For research and development
- For internal staff training
- For UK regulatory and patent submissions
- To post articles from selected publications on your company website

4 How much can be copied?

On each occasion you may copy a single chapter of a book, up to two articles from a periodical, or up to 5% of a publication, whichever is the greater. For digital publications such as websites that are not conventionally structured, you should ensure that copying is limited to small extracts that are equivalent to these limits.

5 Who can make and receive copies?

Any UK employee in your organisation, including individual consultants or agency workers, can make and receive copies. The term 'consultants' also includes those members of a Designated Committee (not otherwise being an Authorised Person) when acting in connection with the activities of the Designated Committee and Local Authority Councillors.

6 Excluded works

Please note that there are some individual titles, authors and categories of publications that are excluded from the Licence. You will need to contact the copyright owner directly for permission to copy these.

7 International publications

CLA has agreements with similar agencies in most major overseas territories enabling International publications and content to be copied under the CLA Licence. For full details of these overseas agencies and the countries that are covered please visit cla.co.uk

8 Check Permissions

The easiest way to check what can be copied is to use CLA's Check Permissions search tool at cla.co.uk
